

The Brussels Times and FiscalNote Announce Partnership to Provide Expert Analysis through “EU Policy Tracking” Newsletter

BRUSSELS--(NOV-12-2020) -- FiscalNote, a global technology and media company headquartered in Washington, DC, and The Brussels Times, Belgium’s largest English daily news outlet, have launched a weekly newsletter highlighting policy updates and analysis on developments in the European Union.

The “EU Policy Tracking Newsletter,” distributed by The Brussels Times, delivers weekly updates produced by FiscalNote’s EU policy experts based in Brussels. This newsletter provides news as well as expert insight as to what to expect from the Commission, the European Parliament and the Council of the European Union. To date, the EU Policy Tracking newsletter is followed by over 20,000 EU Affairs professionals.

“The success of this newsletter cements the appetite for easily digestible, relevant and valuable policy analysis on the ground in Brussels” said Arnaud Sonnet, Managing Director of FiscalNote Europe. “FiscalNote’s global reach continues to expand, and partnerships like this allow us to provide our expert analysis to a larger network of policy practitioners who need real-time resources.”

This partnership builds upon FiscalNote’s global expansion in the policy and government affairs space, particularly in Europe. In 2018, FiscalNote acquired Brussels-based Shungham, whose flagship product “EU Issue Tracker” was known as a reliable provider of systematic regulatory and legislative intelligence about European Union issues.

“We are thrilled to collaborate with FiscalNote to empower the Brussels community with the right information to navigate EU member state policy,” The Brussels Times said. “By consolidating the latest news, analysis, and upcoming events in one easily digestible format, we’re meeting readers on-the-go and giving them what they need to do their jobs well.”
